Note:

The applicant will not be able to submit the application until all stages are complete.

The applicant can withdraw their application at any point. This button is important should the applicant have chosen the wrong national committee application at the previous stage. Withdrawing their application will take them back a stage and enable them to choose the correct application.

The applicant can save their application at any stage and return to it later by simply logging back into the system and proceeding where they left off. Once submitted they will not be able to make any further changes to the application and it will be moved on to the review process for your committee to assess.
